Swedish Lutheran Church Fair. The annual fair of the Swedish Latheran church opened Toesday eve-ning with a large attendance in the church basement on Hickory street, which has been handsomely decorated for the occasion. The various booths at which fancy articles, home made candy, cake etc., were sold, drew lib-eral patronage, and judging from its first night, the fair, which is to be atinued on Thursday and Saturday enings, will be a great success and e proceeds will materially reduce he debt of the church. The well ren-ered selections of the Harmony club sere much enjoyed Tuesday evening. An attraction to the young people was the fishing pond. Rev. "Have you got your tickets?" Is an absorbing question among Norwich football inthusinsis at the present time, and probably more thin haif of those who expected to attend the Yale-Harvard game in Cambridge on Saturday have to return a negative answer. One Norwich man who was trying to accommodate about 25 friends with tickets has received 12 to distribute, and is having troubles of his own in making an equitable division. Others who made applications have received their money back or had the number they wanted cut to two, so that it will be an anxious time for the next day or two among all those who are expecting to go and have not yet heard from their applications to their friends who were to secure tickets for them.

It is reported from Boston that only shout two-thirds of the applications for tickets for the Harvard-Yale game from Harvard men can be filled this year. Of the 47.183 applications received at the Athletic association of fice in Cambridge, 18,000 have been assigned to Yale and only about 13,000 seats are left for the Crimson support-
